The tap is equipped with a two-step Eco-click cartridge, enabling reduction of water flow by up to 50%. All thanks to the possibility of an intuitive setting of the lever that opens the water supply in two dedicated positions: raising the handle to the moment of slight resistance informs the user that the water flow has reached 50%, lifting the handle higher (we will hear a click sound) will set the water flow at the maximum stream. This solution is recommended in households, public spaces, apartments for rent, hotels and wherever attention to limiting water consumption is important.

Clinic taps are an example of a comfortable and at the same time safe operation. The water stream can be turned on with your hand, forearm or elbow. This solution was designed for places where high hygiene levels counts. This is a common choice in health clinics, beauty salons or gastronomic points.
