Construct steel frame buildings quickly and easily with this lightweight sheathing board.

Glasroc X Sheathing Board is a faster and easier way to provide temporary weather protection to steel frames. Steel frame buildings need protection from the elements before fit-out can begin. With Glasroc X Sheathing Board it's quick and easy to protect the frame so that interior work can start straight away.

The weather resistant board offers excellent airtightness, and provides BBA certified weather protection for six months. It's also lightweight and simple to score, meaning it's much easier to handle and produces less mess than cement board.
