VIVAT is a modular decorative radiator with the option of almost any size and appearance modification. This makes it a radiator suitable for any room and arrangement. However, it looks best in a modern interior - there its elegance impresses the most. It consists of vertical, narrow profiles connected in a simple but effective way. Keeps you warm in style! Works when connected to a central heating system. It effectively uses the available thermal energy, heating up quickly and evenly. In the VIVAT X variant, it has an increased heating power thanks to an additional row of profiles.
