Trowel with orange rubber sponge COMENSAL 270x130x18mm

Tile trowel with rubber sponge for cleaning after grouting and for skimming - 270x130x18mm

A tiling trowel with a characteristic orange rubber sponge by COMENSAL intended for cleaning after grouting, including those intended for glazed surfaces.

It has a porous structure. It is "rubbery" to the touch. It does well in the water and picks up the contents carefully.

Squeezed, it effectively removes the water remaining on the slabs after washing.

It is also used for skimming/troweling plasters.

The hazard is rinsed and squeezed out of the water using tiling rollers and a grid.
